

Cambridge Indymedia presents:
7.30pm, Sun 25 July
Free Films @ the Geldart, 1 Ainsworth St.

The Sun Doesn't Shine In The Camp

We present a new film about Balata Refugee Camp in Palestine, one of the most hard hit communities in the West Bank, where over 30,000 people are crammed into a single suffocating square kilometre. Unemployment is the norm, and most families rely on UNWRA handouts for survival. Daily 'visits' by Israeli military jeeps and tanks that park at the entrances and shoot into the camp are taken for granted.

The film includes footage shot over the last 12 months by Mika Minio-Paluello, a peace activist from Cambridge who has spent time living in Balata. Mika will be present at the screening to answer questions and to participate in discussion about the situation in Palestine.

Also showing will be some short films by Jackie Salloum, Palestinian-American film-maker.

The Geldart pub is at 1, Ainsworth Street, just off Sturton Street between Café Afrika and Mill Road.

<http://cambridge.indymedia.org.uk/>
 not to be flyposted ~

Cambridge Indymedia presents:
7.30pm, Sun 25 July
Free Films @ the Geldart, 1 Ainsworth St.

The Sun Doesn't Shine In The Camp

We present a new film about Balata Refugee Camp in Palestine, one of the most hard hit communities in the West Bank, where over 30,000 people are crammed into a single suffocating square kilometre. Unemployment is the norm, and most families rely on UNWRA handouts for survival. Daily 'visits' by Israeli military jeeps and tanks that park at the entrances and shoot into the camp are taken for granted.

The film includes footage shot over the last 12 months by Mika Minio-Paluello, a peace activist from Cambridge who has spent time living in Balata. Mika will be present at the screening to answer questions and to participate in discussion about the situation in Palestine.

Also showing will be some short films by Jackie Salloum, Palestinian-American film-maker.

The Geldart pub is at 1, Ainsworth Street, just off Sturton Street between Café Afrika and Mill Road.

<http://cambridge.indymedia.org.uk/>
 not to be flyposted ~

Cambridge Indymedia presents:
7.30pm, Sun 25 July
Free Films @ the Geldart, 1 Ainsworth St.

The Sun Doesn't Shine In The Camp

We present a new film about Balata Refugee Camp in Palestine, one of the most hard hit communities in the West Bank, where over 30,000 people are crammed into a single suffocating square kilometre. Unemployment is the norm, and most families rely on UNWRA handouts for survival. Daily 'visits' by Israeli military jeeps and tanks that park at the entrances and shoot into the camp are taken for granted.

The film includes footage shot over the last 12 months by Mika Minio-Paluello, a peace activist from Cambridge who has spent time living in Balata. Mika will be present at the screening to answer questions and to participate in discussion about the situation in Palestine.

Also showing will be some short films by Jackie Salloum, Palestinian-American film-maker.

The Geldart pub is at 1, Ainsworth Street, just off Sturton Street between Café Afrika and Mill Road.

<http://cambridge.indymedia.org.uk/>
 not to be flyposted ~

Cambridge Indymedia presents:
7.30pm, Sun 25 July
Free Films @ the Geldart, 1 Ainsworth St.

The Sun Doesn't Shine In The Camp

We present a new film about Balata Refugee Camp in Palestine, one of the most hard hit communities in the West Bank, where over 30,000 people are crammed into a single suffocating square kilometre. Unemployment is the norm, and most families rely on UNWRA handouts for survival. Daily 'visits' by Israeli military jeeps and tanks that park at the entrances and shoot into the camp are taken for granted.

The film includes footage shot over the last 12 months by Mika Minio-Paluello, a peace activist from Cambridge who has spent time living in Balata. Mika will be present at the screening to answer questions and to participate in discussion about the situation in Palestine.

Also showing will be some short films by Jackie Salloum, Palestinian-American film-maker.

The Geldart pub is at 1, Ainsworth Street, just off Sturton Street between Café Afrika and Mill Road.

<http://cambridge.indymedia.org.uk/>
 not to be flyposted ~