The Power of Community (55min).
Cuba in the early '90's experienced an oil crisis. With the break-up of the Soviet Union, Cuba's access to oil was almost halted in just a matter of weeks. This documentary traces the government's and the community response for survival and ultimately a positive outcome.

door £2 / T£1

The film show will be followed by Q & A and a discussion about oil depletion, climate change and how people can get involved in preparing for a low energy future.
